C. I. TRIPP HONORED AT TESTIMONIAL

Clifford I. Tripp of Mattapoisett was honored at a testimonial dinner at Gaudette's Pavilion in Acushnet recently by approximately 200 relatives and friends. Mr. Tripp retired on April 1st after serving 28 years as superintendent of the Mattapoisett Water Department.

The Rev. Allen F. Tinkham, a native of Mattapoisett and pastor of the United Church in Niantic, Conn., was the guest speaker. He paid tribute to Mr. Tripp, describing him as a man of honor and vision. He recalled many incidents that occurred during the 31 years Mr. Tripp has been with the water department.

Mr. Tinkham was introduced by Edwin C. Winslow, Jr., master of ceremonies, who also introduced the other guests at the head table. They were, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Tripp and Mr. Tinkham, members of the Board of Water Commissioners, Roscoe E. Barstow and Mrs. Barstow, Nelson F. Harriman and Winfield Jenney; also Frederick LeBaron, who succeeded Mr. Tripp as superintendent, and Mrs. LeBaron.

A gift of money was presented to Mr. Tripp by Mr. Harriman. Mrs. Tripp received a bouquet of roses presented to her by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker of Mattapoisett were seated at the family table. Others at this table were a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford I. Tripp, Jr. of Mattapoisett; a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Field of Mattapoisett; a daughter, Miss Marjory P. Tripp of Avon, Connecticut; and a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Converse, of Marion. Mrs. Duayne Douglas of Colorado, another daughter, was unable to be traditional race over 500 grueling miles. On the same day in Rochester a smaller version is run over land and water that tests the stamina no less than the big one at Indianapolis. All boats in the Rochester to Mattapoisett race are homemade. The course winds through swamp and cranberry bog, across pond and puddle to the finish at the Mattapoisett Herring Weir. This year, almost at the start of the race, a boat came to grief as it swamped in the Rochester Pond leg of the journey. This ducking is a fairly common occurrence, as none of the contestants ever come in dry. It's a long paddle, with numerous portages along the route. All the boats are run against the clock for the river is so narrow in places that there is hardly room for a single boat. Even so, there is passing in the race, and it's good fun for the many spectators who follow the race from point to point where the river comes out of the woods and crosses the road. This Memorial Day was one of the best in the series that dates back to the year 1934. The record time was bested three times by Lizotte and

APPLICATIONS FOR CRANBERRY GROWERS

According to Charles C. Starr, supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration in Rhode Island and southeastern Massachusetts, his agency has received and processed applications for 62 cranberry growers for a total amount of $480,000. He anticipates additional applications will be made before the closing date of June 30. However, he strongly recommends that any cranberry grower desiring assistance from this agency should make application as soon as possible as it takes two to four weeks to process an application, depending on the acreage involved.

Applications are being received by Robert B. Hiller, Emergency Loan Supervisor, at the Cranberry Expirement Station at Wareham on Wednesday and Thursday of each week. The following are conditions and purposes under which the loans are made:

ELIGIBILITY Any cranberry grower operating in the designated area including individual, partnership or corporation is eligible for a Production Emergency Loan providing the applicant meets the following requirements:

1. Has a record of successful cranberry operations in the past.
2. He is unable to obtain credit from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies or other responsible sources, the credit required for continuing his normal operation.
3. Has the necessary experience and ability to succeed with the proposed cranberry operation and will honestly endeavor to carry out the necessary obligations required of him.
4. He will personally manage the operation involved.

LOAN PURPOSES Production Emergency Loans may be made for any of the following purposes:

1. The purchase of seed, fertilizer, insecticides, and to meet any other essential farm operating expenses in connection with the growing of the 1960 crop. Emergency loan funds will not be used for refinancing purposes.

REPAYMENT TERMS The loans will be scheduled for repayment as the income from the 1960 crop is expected to be received. The interest

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES HELD

Memorial Day exercises to honor the dead of all wars were held Monday afternoon at 2 P.M. on the lawn of the Mattapoisett Public Library, sponsored by Florence Eastman Post 280, American Legion.

Guest speaker was Major Albert J. Williamson, training officer of 441st Civil Affairs Company at Fort Rodman, New Bedford. He spoke on "Thoughts of Memorial Day" to the more than 100 people who attended and to the participants in the parade.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Frederic E. Reynard, pastor of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. The Gettysburg Address was given by Richard Morgado of Mattapoisett Junior High School. Musical selections were by the Fairhaven High School band.

MATTAPOISETT MEMORIAL CEREMONIES..Placing wreath on army and navy monument.

Following the exercises, the parade formed on the library grounds and proceeded down Barstow Street to Water Street and to the Town Wharf where a short ceremony was held for those who lost their lives at sea. The parade then proceeded to Main Street and Acushnet Road to Cushing Cemetery where appropriate ceremonies were held. The parade then proceeded to Legion Hall where marchers were served refreshments by a committee from the Legion Auxiliary.

The firing squad and colors visited all other cemeteries in the town for ceremonies after the parade dismissal. Parade marshals were Major Charles A. Morgan and George S. White.

The committee arranging the exercises was

Photos from "Let's analyze your golf swing" by Ken Venturi, a 24-page book free at men's stores and pro shops that carry Jantzen. A proper accompaniment to a Father's Day gift!

Motto for Father's Day: Don't be guilty of unsportsmanlike sportswear

Now here is a sportsmanlike gesture that you can make as Father's Day approaches: Place this magazine where members of your family who are driven to spending their hard-earned allowances on you will see this ad and perhaps thus be led to buy you the famous Jantzen "Ken Venturi" shirt.

We say famous; fine stores catering to golfers and other political parties have made arrangements to place many, many Jantzen shirts within easy reach; they are made of fine 100 percent cotton, with an embroidered emblem, long back tail, and fashion collar, and they come in subdued hues that are the most attractive shades in years: Flag red, banana gold, stucco, seaweed green, montego blue, skipper white, black. This shirt is $6.00; there are other Jantzen shirts, as well as sportsmanlike sweaters designed specifically for golf, for other prices.

Hope for the best; maybe you'll get more than one.

James Costa was voted to membership.

The new 50-star Flag will replace the old Flag in the standard, the work to be done by Barry Denham, flag bearer.

A get-well card was signed by the members to be sent to Donald Dorr. Others who will receive cards are Miss Mae Delano and Mrs. Joseph Bauer. A gift from the Juvenile Grange was presented on Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pemberton of Acushnet Road who were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

A corn popping party was held after the meeting. Catherine Alves won the lecturer's march prize.

A Summer Fair will be held with the following named as chairmen of the tables: Catherine Alves, cake and candy; David Rawcliffe, vegetables; Paul Morris, comic books; Doris Fearing, white elephants; Barry Denham, grabs; Richard Rawcliffe, punch; and Larry Smith, games.
